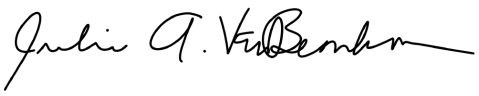
Kosher Statement

Inline Plastics Corp. produces recyclable, single-use thermoformed plastic containers by heating and molding plastic sheets into a variety of shapes and sizes.

Inline Plastics Corp. requires that vendors supplying polypropylene (PP) sheets provide Kosher certification for the material.

The PP plastic is heated and then molded and formed into containers. No additives, food ingredients, or animal products are used during the manufacturing process. No chemical synthesis is involved; the Kosher-certified plastic is simply reshaped into the final container.

Sincerely,



Julie VanBennekom
